LOCAL BUSINESSES RALLY TO SUPPORT ORCHESTRA'S GROWTH

"As the new President of the IVS Board of Directors, I would like to thank all of those remarkable individuals with whom we have already established relationships. Ever since we have joined the Temecula Chamber of Commerce I have been truly overwhelmed by the outpouring of assistance that we have received in such a short time.

The businesses whose logos appear here have in some way contributed to our goals and have allowed us to jump start our 2007-2008 marketing campaign. We look forward to an exciting year of growth for the Inland Valley Symphony. The orchestra is ready to become recognized as a premier arts organization in the Inland Valley area. We would like to thank all of our "new supporters" and look forward to meeting more individuals and business owners in the Temecula/Murrieta area."

President's Vision of Success for Symphony

Alana Joos, the new President of the Board of Directors, offers her ideas for the future of IVS.

"The Inland Valley Symphony promotes cultural enrichment for the entire Inland Valley area. It's time that we are no longer the best kept secret. It's important for our local communities to embrace the orchestra. We have already begun a strong marketing campaign and plan to build our network of supporters for the future of the symphony.

I envision doubling concert attendance, larger venues, more outstanding soloists, continued musical growth and building community awareness of the arts.

Let's raise the bar and make this our best year ever!" Alana Joos
